Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-5 and 7-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, line 3, applicant claims "display has a plurality of separately activated individual area each of electroluminescent material, in which display". From provided drawings and reading the specification, here, it is not clear at all as to what exactly the applicant is attempting to claim.

In claim 1, line 5, "the back electrode layer" lacks antecedent basis. Is this back electrode layer one of "two electrode layers" cited in line 2?

In claim 1, lines 5-7, applicant claims "both the back electrode layer and the electroluminescent material layer are each composed of a plurality separate areas each matching in shape and size the image which relevant portion of the display is to show". From provided drawings and reading the specification, here, it is not clear at all as to what exactly the applicant is attempting to claim.

Similar situations also appear through claim 7.

Regarding claims 1-5 and 7-9, claims 1-5 and 7-9 are so informal (see rejection of claims under 35 USC 112, second paragraph) that no meaningful examination, as to applying of prior art, can be undertaken at this time. See MPEP 702.01.

Double Patenting

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

Art Unit: 2879

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claims 1-5, 7-9 are provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1-5, 7-9 of copending US Application No. 10/708,610. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claims 1-5 and 7-9 of instant application are identical that of claims 1-5 and 5-7 of US application 10/708,610
